Claims Rejection 35 USC § 103

31.The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

32. Claim 1, 3-9, 32, 34-40 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 6,308,277 B1 to Vaeth et al.(hereinafter Vaeth) in view of U.S. Patent 5,659,616 to Sudia.

33. Regarding Claim 1 and 32, Vaeth discloses "transmitting a role approval form, filled out and digitally signed by the user using a personal digital signature, to at least one personal role approval, signing digitally the role approval form by the personal role approval using a personal digital signature, creating a role certificate upon receipt of the role approval form signed by the user and the personal role approval, notifying the user of the availability of the role certificate, and transmitting the role certificate to the user" see Column 4 Line 34- Line 54. But Vaeth does not disclose the use of group stamp and further the use of role certificate for encryption of information. However, Sudia discloses the use of group stamp and the use of role certificate for encryption of information see Col 7 Line 26-34. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the use of group stamp and the use of role certificate for encryption of information of Sudia's in the invention of Vaeth in order to be used outside of the system as taught in Sudia see Col 7 Line 20-25.

34. Regarding Claim 3 and 34, The policy indicates all permitted uses and limitations on the role certificate" is met by see Sudia Col 7 Line 36- Col 9 Line10. It would be obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the policy of Sudia in Vaeth in order to restrict access to sensitive information see Col 7 Line 53-55.

35.Regarding Claim 4 and 35, The "identifying all members of a group as role members that will access and use the role certificate, storing the names and identifications of all role members, and transmitting copies of the role certificate to all role members" is met by Vaeth et al. see Column 4 Line 38-44 & Column 4 Line 58-61.

36.Regarding Claim 5 and 36, The "transmitting the public key portion of the role certificate to a plurality of entities outside the group; and decrypting messages from the plurality of entities outside the group encrypted using the public key portion of the role certificate" is met by Vaeth et al. see Column 3 Line 42-47.

37.Regarding Claim 6 and 37, The "signing electronic forms by a group member utilizing the role certificate; and transmitting electronic forms to entities outside the group" is met by Vaeth et al. see Column 4 Line 44-49.

38.Regarding Claim 7 and 38, The "filling out an electronic form by a role member of the plurality of role members of the group; signing digitally the electronic form by the role member using the role certificate; signing digitally the electronic form by the role member using a personal signature certificate; and transmitting the electronic form to an entity" is met by Vaeth et al. see Column 4 Line 34- Line 54.

But Vaeth does not disclose the use of group stamp and further the use of role certificate for encryption of information. However, Sudia discloses the use of group stamp and the use of role certificate for encryption of information see Col 7 Line 26-34. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the use of group stamp and the use of role certificate for encryption of information of Sudia's in the invention of Vaeth in order to be used outside of the system as taught in Sudia see Col 7 Line 20-25.

39. Regarding Claim 8 and 39, The "retrieving a policy associated with the role certificate by the entity, and determining if the role certificate signature supplied is valid as a signature for the electronic form" is met by Vaeth et al. see Col 2 Line 65- Col 3 Line 1 & Column 3 Line 26-34.

42. Regarding Claim 2, 10, and 33, Vaeth et al. does not disclose role certificate comprises public key, a private key, a signature algorithm ID, a validity period, extensions and at least one policy. However Wesley et al. discloses the use of public key, a private key, a signature algorithm ID, a validity period, extensions and policies and identifier of the roles see Column 4 Line 18-Line 27. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include to role certificate a public key, a private key, a signature algorithm ID, validity period, extensions and at least one policy in order to provide identities and authorization to participate in session see Column 3 Line 6-Line 9 & Col 3 Line 52-62.
43. Claim 15, 46 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 6301658 B1 to Koehler in view of U.S. Patent 6308277 B1 to Vaeth et al.
44. Regarding Claim 15 and 46, Koehler does not disclose the "private key portion of the role certificate is stored in a key recovery authority". However Vaeth et al. discloses the storage of private keys see Column 8 Line 13-23. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include an storage of private keys for recovery in order for them to be accessed by other networks or special hardware and software see Column 8 Line 23-28.

45. Claim 23, 54 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S.

Patent 6,301,658 B1 to Koehler in view of U.S. Patent 6,275,859 B1 to Wesley et al. (hereinafter Wesley).

46. Regarding Claim 23 and 54, Koehler does not disclose authenticating that the role member is either a member of the role or a role authority for the role prior to contacting the key recovery authority. However, Wesley et al. discloses verifying of role prior to the contacting repair nodes see Column 3 Line 6-20. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify verifying of role prior to the contacting repair node to contacting recovery authority in order operation to be performed before session not during active session and thus increasing latency see Column 4 Line 12-14.

47. Claim 29, 30, 60, 61 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 6,487,658 B1 to Micali in view of U.S. Patent 5,659,616 to Sudia.

48. Regarding Claim 29 and 60, Micali discloses identifying an role certificate to be recovered and searching to find whether the role is still valid; transmitting a request for approval by recovery agent and receiving an approval, transmitting the role certificate to user see Column 25 Line 20-34. The transmitting of role certificate to an agent is disclosed by Micali see Column 24 Line 67-Column 25 Line 6. But Micali does not disclose the use of group stamp and further the use of role certificate for encryption of information. However, Sudia discloses the use of group stamp and the use of role certificate for encryption of information see Col 7 Line 26-34. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the use of group stamp and the use of role certificate for encryption of information of Sudia's in the invention of Micali in order to be used outside of the system as taught in Sudia see Col 7 Line 20-25.

49. Regarding Claim 30 and 61, Micali discloses the need for both agents to agree in order for certificate to be recovered see Col 25 Line 37-49.

50. Claim 31, 62 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 6,487,658 B1 to Micali in view of U.S. Patent 5,659,616 to Sudia and further in view of U.S. Patent 6,275,859 B1 to Wesley et al. (hereinafter Wesley)

51. Regarding Claim 31 and 62, Micali does not disclose agents being authenticated prior to the role certificate being sent to the recovery agent. However, Wesley et al. discloses verifying of role prior to the contacting repair node see Column 4 Line 3-6 & Column 4 Line 15-17. It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify verifying of role prior to the contacting repair node to recovery authority in order operation to be performed before session not during active session and thus increasing latency see Column 4 Line 12-14.
